NFU Membership Types & Fees

Farm Family - $225 minimum/year

If you farm, you and your family may join as Farm Family members. Every member of the farm family, including youth aged 14 to 21, are full voting members of the NFU. The NFU recognizes that every family member contributes to the farm. Thank you for keeping family farming thriving in the 21st century.

Farming Unit - $225 minimum/year

If you farm as a co-operative, collective or partnership where the majority of the farm's labour or management is provided by individuals actively involved in operating the farm, you may join as Farming Unit members. Up to 4 individuals comprising a farming unit are recognized under a Farming Unit membership. We are pleased to add this category to our membership to recognize the power of collective work.

Youth Members - $113 minimum/year

Young farmers are essential to our future. A youth membership covers any youth aged 14 to 25 who does not already fall into the Farm Family membership category. We endeavour to give youth many opportunities to connect with other farmers of all ages to learn from those with more experience and share their own knowledge with others.

Associate Members - $75 minimum/year

If you are a non-farmer who supports NFU values, we invite you to join us as an Associate Member. Associate Members can participate actively to help the NFU build a better food system. Associate members receive NFU publications, but do not have a vote; however, that does not diminish your value in any way. With fewer than 2% of Canadians farming, we need your support more than ever.
